

An aerial photograph of a construction site. A wide, muddy river flows through the center. On the left bank, there are several small buildings and a flatbed truck. On the right bank, there is a large area of excavation with a yellow excavator and a pile of rebar. In the bottom right corner, there are several stacked shipping containers in various colors (red, blue, yellow). The overall scene depicts a large-scale construction project in a riverine area.

Primary-Artery-Disease-Management-R

Research Report

August 10, 2025